4C Global Sustainability Conference on 6 June 2019 in Berlin

Are you looking for practical solutions for sustainable coffee supply chains and have you ever asked yourself the questions:

- How can you address key sustainability and climate impact challenges?
- How to implement sustainable supply chains in times of low coffee prices?
- What are the strategies of leading brand owners and traders?
- What is the impact of sustainability certification and how can it be increased?
- How can you integrate smallholders?
- How can you use innovative technologies to increase the credibility of certification and to support risk mitigation?
- Which concrete and implementable solutions are offered to the market by 4C?

The 4C Global Sustainability Conference taking place on 6 June 2019 in Berlin is providing answers to these questions. Coffee producers, brand owners, roasters, traders and retailers, as well as authorities, associations, NGOs, consumer protection organisations, research bodies and other interested parties are cordially invited to join the discussion and exchange of information. Expert speakers will provide insights from various perspectives. Besides short and focused presentations, the agenda provides sufficient time for discussions and networking.

Please find the Agenda attached. The event is free of charge. Registration is required.
