Public Consultation: Share your Feedback

Public consultation has always been a vital driver for 4C in all its actions and innovations to continuously work on improving the 4C certification system.

The Public Consultation for our new Carbon Footprint Add-On is still open until 16 March 2022.

Take the opportunity to share your feedback with us now – simply download the System Document and send us your comments through this \(anonymous\) form.

We are looking forward to your input – Let's work together for a more climate friendly future in coffee cultivation and processing!

Join the first 4C Technical Stakeholder Committee Meeting

The newly set up 4C Technical Stakeholder Committee will meet for the first time on 6 April 2022 at 13:00 CET.

In this first meeting we will kick off our continuous cooperation to improve the on-the-ground application of the Carbon Footprint Add-On and discuss future technological innovations.

The participation in the Technical Stakeholder Committee is open for all 4C system users: Managing Entities of 4C Units, Certification Bodies, Intermediary Buyers and Final Buyers.

Updated list of country specific risks now available

We are delighted to announce that we have updated the country-specific risk list to help give 4C System users an overview of external risks they might face within the coffee producing countries.

The list serves as an overview of additional risk indicators to be analyzed before any 4C audit, in addition to the GRAS risk index (ref. System Regulations, Chapter 7.2). It is now available on 4C Portal.

Note: The list is not to be considered as “complete” and should only serve as a supplement to other sources of country-specific information on risks.
